

STEPHEN L. CARPINO

SENIOR ASSOCIATE

Stephen Carpino has been with Altieri since 1984. He has designed HVAC engineering systems for many significant building projects. He is also a senior field member of Altieri's Construction Administration Team.

Steve's responsibilities have included conceptual design, production scheduling and coordination, detailed engineering calculations, specification preparation, construction administration, and client interface. As Project Manager, he coordinates assignments with the team engineers and oversees the design and technical development of the building design.

Steve represents Altieri with expertise in the field just as he represents the nation as a proud United States Air Force veteran.
